ORDINANCE TO SEPARATE RACES

Was Considered By the Chamber of Commerce Yesterday, and Recommended for Passage By the City Council.

PROVIDES THAT WHITE AND COLORED PASSENGERS UPON STREET CARS MUST OCCUPY SEPARATE COMPARTMENTS PROVIDED BY THE STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

The Chamber of Commerce of Pensacola has taken the initiative in the matter of having an ordinance passed separating the white and colored races, and at a special meeting held yesterday an ordinance, or rather two of them, were introduced, read and by a unanimous vote the City Council was requested to enact the same into law.

Vice-President Jennings, in the absence of President John E. Stillman, called the meeting to order. In doing so he explained that upon request he had called a meeting of the general body. His introductory remarks were as follows:

"Gentlemen of the Chamber of Commerce:

"The president being absent from the city, I, as the first vice-president, at the request of some of the members, have authorized the calling of this special meeting of the general body of the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of hearing read and probably taking action on a certain proposed ordinance which will be introduced at the next meeting of the city council, that ordinance having for its object the compelling of the separation of the races while riding on the street cars in this city.

"The state law which was enacted by the recent legislature for the same purpose has been declared null and void by the supreme court of Florida because, as that court says, one of the sections of that law was in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States.

"It will be nearly two years before the legislature meets again, and if this important matter is to be regulated in the meantime, so far as it affects Pensacola, it remains only for the city council to act. Whether the council has the authority to enact and enforce such an ordinance will be discussed here today by able lawyers, who have been invited to meet with us and give us their opinions and advice.

"As the question is one of great importance to our city, especially at this particular time, it is nothing but right and proper that such a proposed ordinance, after being passed upon by the lawyers and receiving their endorsement as being constitutional and not likely to be upset by the courts, should next be considered by our business people. And it is doubtful if there is a better way to reach the people interested in the various businesses of Pensacola and obtain a correct and true expression of their wishes than through the Chamber of Commerce.

"Of course the council will not be bound by our actions and doings in this meeting, but it is more than probable that they will receive in a kindly and friendly spirit any resolution that may be passed here today in reference to the question, and there is no doubt that the same will most naturally and properly have its influence with that honorable body."

The Proposed Ordinance.
The ordinance, which will be sent to the City Council, with a request that it be passed, was then read by Secretary Jones. It has been passed upon by a number of the most learned lawyers of the state, and it is believed will stand any test to which it may be subjected. This ordinance will be submitted to the council with a request that it be passed. It is as follows:

AN ORDINANCE
To Be Entitled an Ordinance to Require Street Car Companies and Others Operating Cars Along the Streets of the City of Pensacola to Furnish Separate Cars or Compartments for White and Colored Passengers.

Be it ordained by the Mayor and the City Council of the City of Pensacola:

Section 1. That all persons, associations of persons, firms or corporations operating street car lines along and upon the streets of the City of Pensacola shall furnish equal accommodations in separate cars or compartments of cars for white and colored passengers. A failure to comply with this provision shall subject the person so offending to a fine of $25 or imprisonment for sixty days.

Section 2. That all persons, associations of persons, firms or corporations operating street car lines along and upon the streets of the City of Pensacola shall make provisions, rules and regulations for the separation of white passengers from negro passengers, by separate cars or fixed divisions or movable screens, or other method of division in the cars of such lines. A failure or refusal by any such persons, association, firm or corporation to make such provisions, rules and regulations shall be punished by fine not to exceed $50 for each offense. Each day of such failure or refusal shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 3. That when any street car is divided into compartments for the purpose of this ordinance the compartments set apart or provided for white and colored passengers, respectively, shall be in space proportioned according to the usual and ordinary volume of travel by white and colored passengers on the line on which the car is operated.

Section 4. That conductors or other employees in charge of such cars shall assign passengers to their respective car or compartment provided under this ordinance.

Section 5. That any passenger willfully occupying any car or compartment other than that to which he has been assigned shall be punished by fine not to exceed $25 or by imprisonment not to exceed thirty days. Conductors and other employees in charge of such cars may eject therefrom any passenger who willfully occupies any car or compartment of car other than that to which he has been assigned.

Section 6. If any conductor or other employee having charge of any such car shall permit white and colored passengers to occupy the same car in case separate cars be provided, or compartment in case separate cars be not provided, he shall be punished by fine not to exceed $50 or imprisonment not to exceed sixty days.

Section 7. That nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the running of extra or special cars for the exclusive accommodation of either white or colored passengers if the regular cars are operated as usual and as required by this ordinance.

Section 8. That this ordinance take effect immediately upon its passage and approval by the Mayor.

Provides For Nurses.
The provision for nurses, in charge of white children to occupy the same compartments as white passengers, was then brought up, in the shape of a separate ordinance. It is as follows:

AN ORDINANCE
To Be Entitled an Ordinance to Provide for the Assignment of Nurses and Persons in Their Care to Street Cars in Street Cars.

Be it ordained by the Mayor and the City Council of the City of Pensacola:

Section 1. That when a nurse having the care of any child or children of an invalid desires to be carried upon the street cars operated along the streets of the City of Pensacola, the conductor or other persons in charge of such cars shall designate the place to be occupied by such nurse and the child or children or invalid in his or her care; and any person interfering with or disobeying the authority of such conductor or other person in charge of such car shall be punished by a fine of fifty dollars ($50) or imprisonment for thirty (30) days.

Section 2. That this ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its passage and approval by the Mayor.

The two ordinances were discussed at some length by the members who were present, and upon learning that the next meeting of the council would be during the latter portion of the month, it was decided to request of Mayor Bliss that a special meeting be called, when the two ordinances will be presented with the request that they be passed.

MAY BECOME A REPUBLIC

By Associated Press.

Copenhagen, Aug. 2.—Since his arrival at the Danish court, Emperor William appears to have become convinced that there is no hope of a prince of the house of Bernadotte becoming king of Norway. His majesty now favors Prince Charles of Denmark and he is quoted as saying:

"If Prince Charles does not become king Norway will become a republic. Of course I prefer a monarchy; and, therefore shall hereafter support the candidacy of Prince Charles."

REMAINS OF JOSEPH COMMUNY AT REST.

The remains of Joseph Communs, one of the oldest citizens of Pensacola, who expired at the Griffin home Tuesday morning after a lingering illness, were interred yesterday afternoon in St. Michael's cemetery.

The funeral cortege moved from the family residence to St. Michael's church, where the services were held and from there to St. Michael's cemetery, where the interment was made. A large concourse of friends and relatives of the deceased and of the family attended the funeral and saw the remains placed at rest.

Will Play Ball.

The team representing the gunboat Wasp and the champion Orioles will play a game of baseball this afternoon at Palmetto Beach. Both teams are about evenly matched and if the weather is favorable it is expected that a good crowd will be present to witness the game.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF SAFETY

Monthly Reports Were Received, and Food of Prisoners Discussed.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Public Safety was held last night, with Chairman Ingraham presiding and Mayor Bliss and Mr. McLaughlin present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were approved, after which the report of Chief Bicker was read, showing that two fires had occurred during the past month.

Marshal Schad submitted his monthly report of the arrests, fines and collections. It showed that the department had made 425 arrests, of which number 335 had been convicted, 79 discharged, and 11 sent to the criminal court. Fines assessed aggregated $1,821, and costs $310, of which amounts $1,109 had been collected on fines and $249 on costs.

Weighing of Feed.
Chairman McLaughlin of the committee to purchase scales for the weighing of feed, and to equip each company with scales with which to weigh the same, made a report, stating the prices on certain classes of scales. The committee was given authority to purchase the scales.

Feeding of Prisoners.

The food furnished the city prisoners then came in for discussion. Mr. McLaughlin of that committee stated that he had inspected the food in several instances, and that it was abominable and unfit for any person to eat. He had sampled the coffee, bread and other articles of food on several occasions, and something should be done as soon as possible. The prisoners, he said, could not work and subsist upon such food as was being furnished them. The special committee recommended that as early as possible the city provide for the feeding of prisoners, and that the necessary equipment be installed as soon as practicable. It is the intention of the board to have all of the food cooked at the police station, instead of awarding the bids to parties in the city.

Suspension of Sentences.

The suspension of sentences in the municipal court was then discussed, being brought up by Mayor Bliss, who read the law on the subject, showing that after the expiration of three days that the judge of the court had no authority to remit a sentence, and that the power was with the Board of Safety. He moved, however, that the board confer its power upon the recorder in all cases, except where the party had been convicted of carrying concealed weapons, and in such cases they must be brought before the board.

The question of the gasoline lights of the Pensacola Gas Company, installed in the western portion of the city, and which burned only a few hours, was discussed upon complaint, but the board had no authority, and it was left with the Board of Public Works. The lights in that section, it was stated, only burned a short period, and not as the contract called for.

SAVAGES AND BRUTES.

Odd Attitude of the Primitive Man Toward All Animals.

For the primitive savage animals are mysterious, problematic beings, possessed of a wide knowledge of the things of nature. They know much more than they are ready to tell us. In some way or another by the aid of senses much more refined than ours and by telling to each other all that they notice in their rambles and flights they know everything for miles around. And if a man has been "just" toward them they will warn him of a coming danger, as they warn each other, but they will take no heed of him if he has not been straightforward in his actions. Snakes and birds (the owl is a leader of the snakes), mammals and insects, lizards and fishes—all understand each other and continually communicate their observations to one another.

Inside this vast brotherhood there are, of course, the still closer brotherhoods of beings "of one blood." The monkeys, the bears, the wolves, the elephants and the rhinoceroses, most ruminants, the hares and most of the rodents, the crocodiles, and so on, perfectly know their own kin, and they will not tolerate any one of their relatives to be slaughtered by man without taking in one way or another honest revenge. This conception must have had an extremely remote origin.

Even now when a savage is hunting he is bound to respect certain rules of propriety toward the animals, and he must perform certain expiatory ceremonies after his hunt. Most of these ceremonies are rigorously enacted even nowadays in the savage clans, especially as regards those species considered the allies of man.

It is well known that two men belonging to two different clans or tribes can become brothers by mixing the blood of the two obtained from small incisions made for that purpose, but it was also quite habitual for man to enter into brotherhood with some animal. The tales continually mention it. An animal asks a hunter to spare it, and if the hunter accedes to the demand the two become brothers. And then the monkey, the bear, the doe, the bird, the crocodile or the bee—any one of the sociable animals—will take all possible care of the man brother in the critical circumstances of his life, sending him or her animal brothers of different tribes to warn him or help him out of a difficulty. And if the warning comes too late or is misunderstood and he loses his life they all will try to bring him back to life, and if they fail they will take due revenge, just as if the man had been one of their own kin.

When I journeyed in Siberia I was often struck, without understanding it, with the care which my Tungus or Mongol would take not to uselessly kill any animal. The fact is that every life is respected by a savage, or, rather, it was before he came in contact with Europeans. If he kills an animal, it is for food or for clothing, but he does not destroy life, as the whites do, for the mere excitement of the slaughter.

True, the red Indians have done that with the buffaloes, but it was only after they had been for a long time in contact with the whites and had got from them the rifle and the quick firing revolver. Of course there are rascals among the animals—the hyena, for instance, or the shrewmouse or the man eating tiger, but these do not count; they are outlaws. As to the great animal world as a whole, savage children are taught to respect it and see in it an extension of their own kin.—Prince Kropotkin in Nineteenth Century.

THE SEISES DANCE.

It Is Reported to Have Originated With the Apostles.

At Seville, in Spain, the dances of the "seises" are gravely reputed to have originated in the apostles having followed the example set by David and danced around our Lord after the last supper. While St. Augustine contended the dance devotional, St. Chrysostom is said to have taken part in it, and, notwithstanding a prohibitory decree of 692, it was exceedingly popular in Spain at the commencement of the seventeenth century. During certain ceremonies the seises dance daily before the high altar of Seville cathedral in the presence of enormous crowds, including the archbishop and all the "Now," writes an eyewitness, "the dancing boys are dressed in the costume of Philip and Mary's days, with short capes, an abundance of streamers, plumed hats and white silk shoes. The organ is supplemented by a string band. The old world air and song of the seises have been compared to the music of a comic opera. After sundry movements the castanets are used. "Now," writes an eyewitness, "the dance grows faster and more varied—a chase croise is succeeded by a circular figure, in which the dancers follow each other round and round, swaying their bodies as they sing rhymed couplets in the soft, stately accent of Andalusia.
